JOIN OUR TEAM OF PROFESSIONAL LAND AGENTS

If you have a passion for the outdoors, or experience in agriculture or land management, then you have what it takes to embark on a life changing career and secure long term financial freedom.

Most of our current agents did not have a background in land sales, rather they come from industries outside of real estate. They have a deep affinity for outdoor recreation and land. Our industry leading sales program will train you on the nuances of land sales—you just have to bring your passion, professionalism and solid work ethic.

WE SELL LAND BETTER THAN ANYBODY

Midwest Land Group works with clients to sell land at a premium, faster than anyone in the market and for the compensation we deserve. It works because we are agent-centric, focused on supporting the most professional land specialists in the business.

We are the fastest-growing land brokerage in the Midwest. Our land agents outsell others 7 to 1, and we are the leaders in acres sold as well as overall sales volume per agent.

WHY MIDWEST LAND GROUP?

For newer agents, we know what it takes to ramp up, attract clients, generate leads, and achieve financial security. Our training program teaches you how to be the most professional and knowledgeable land agent possible, while providing leads that support the entire team so you don't worry about not having enough experience or contacts to get started.

Our best-in-class marketing department and administrative team offer support that you won't find at any other brokerage, so you can focus on selling land. You'll never feel alone or forced to "sink-or-swim."

OUR AGENTS EARN HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS PER YEAR

We offer the most competitive compensation structures in the industry, with a sliding scale that never restarts. No more having a great year only to start over again in January. Only you are in charge of how much money you make.

The business is there, and with our industry-leading training, you'll be set up for success. This is a life-changing opportunity for you (and your family), and we promise it will be better than you ever expected.

Apply now and take a life changing step towards financial freedom and independence with a career in land sales. Join our team of professional land agents at Midwest Land Group today.
